Funds raised will support the SCHOOL BASED HEALTH CENTER at Cumming Elementary School, a Georgia Highlands Medical Services and Forsyth County Schools partnership. This partnership seeks to provide on-site medical and mental health services that promote the health and educational success of school-aged children. School Based Health Centers increase access to health care, contribute to positive educational outcomes, reduce emergency room use, reduce Medicaid cost, and expand access to mental health services.

School Based Health Centers also increase access for harder to reach populations and improve health outcomes for those students across the board. Academically, the School Based Health Center model has shown to decrease absenteeism and tardiness, increase the capacity for student learning and help improve grade point averages.
